

Getting the Most from ENES : What's Needed Now?

Chris Money

ENES3, Brussels, 21st November 2012

The thoughts expressed in this presentation are intended to stimulate discussion and do not necessarily reflect those of CONCAWE

- ▶ A lot of constructive discussion at ENES1-3
 - ▶ A lot of good ideas for improving ESs
 - ▶ At both a structural and process level
 - ▶ But is ENES working optimally ?
 - ▶ Is it delivering against the expectations of stakeholders?
- ❖ How should we now take ENES forward ?

▶ Is it useful ?

- ▶ Is it effective in identifying the challenges/problems ?
- ▶ Are the solutions germane to the issues ?

▶ Is it practical ?

- ▶ Are the ideas/solutions shared in a timely manner such that they can be practically and reliably applied ?
- ▶ Are the solutions/approaches understandable/accessible to the group(s) expected to adopt/apply them ?
- ▶ How 'future proof' is it ?

▶ Should we be doing more?

- ▶ And if so what ? .. and why ?

▶ Are there unnecessary constraints to its efficient working ?

- ▶ Time, resource, legal text, engagement, etc.

- ▶ Better communication
 - ▶ Exploiting web-based tools
 - ▶ Developing and managing interest groups/networks that extend beyond the regional level
 - ▶ Increased involvement of stakeholders
 - ▶ Co-operation and collaboration
 - ▶ Take responsibility to ensure that the conclusions are further shared/disseminated: ENES members are solution providers/multipliers!
 - ▶ Consolidation and bedding-in of solutions
 - ▶ Avoidance of 'change for changes sake'
 - ▶ But what else ??
- ❖ Formalising the various ENES activities into a coherent plan that is developed and supported across stakeholders
